

2020 Virtual Week of Caring

Wednesday: Thank a Business

Our communities would not be what they are without our local businesses. Over the past few months, so many have adapted their models, altered their policies & procedures, invested in new items to keep customers and employees safe, kept our community members employed, and so much more. Many of them have also continued their generous track record of giving at the same time.

Today, your mission is to tell those businesses how appreciative you are for their presence and their efforts during this time. It can be ANY small act to show them how important they are to the strength of our communities!

- Send them a thank you card
- Make a purchase from their location/store
- Write a positive review of their business online
- Write a note through our contact page and we'll distribute it on your behalf
